Helpful phrase when working on diagonals:

“Rise and fall with the leg on the wall”

Often times when you go to a horse show you spend about $300 per show if you include the trailer fees and food.

HOW TO SAVE $$

~Go to local shows. If you go to shows close enough you will not need to rent a stall over night. If you're bringing more than one horse it will save you even more.

~Braid your own horse's mane .don't pay to have someone do it for you.

~Pack your own lunch. Food at shows can be expensive.

~Share a trailer with someone. You will be able to split all costs with the people you go with.

Rider of the Month

Erin & Velvet

Meet Erin!

Erin is 7 yrs. old & is in first grade. Her favorite color is purple and her favorite breed of horse is a Clydesdale. Her cute little pony, Velvet, is a black 13.2 sweet and gentle Welsh Pony. With Velvet, Erin's favorite things to do are riding bareback in the backyard and doing games at the lessons. Soon, Erin hopes to do some more jumping. Erin's dream horse is Velvet; she couldn't ask for a better pony. Her favorite books are Three Stories You Can Read to Your Cat. Lastly, Erin hopes to be a veterinarian when she grows up.
